OOM YUNG DOE INSTRUCTOR GREG MARTIN ELECTED TO WALLINGFORD CHAMBER

On Thursday, November 18th, 2010 Oom Yung Doe Instructor Greg Martin was elected to be the Vice President of the Wallingford Chamber of Commerce.

As the manager of the School of Oom Yung Doe in Wallingford, Greg had become a member of the Chamber of Commerce when Oom Yung Doe first opened its Wallingford location early in 2009. He was quickly appointed to the Board of Directors and served as a Board Member At-Large for about six months before being promoted to Secretary. A few months later he was nominated and elected as the Vice President.

In the first two years of running the Wallingford School of Oom Yung Doe Greg and the entire team of Oom Yung Doe Instructors were very active in the community. In addition to helping to support local elementary and middle Schools, the instructors also provided free classes to Seattle Center, the Wallingford Boys and Girls Club, and the Wallingford Senior Center, and hosted monthly community seminars at the School of Oom Yung Doe. Carrying a position of leadership in the Chamber of commerce connected him to many other community-based events, including parades, fundraisers and auctions, community cleanups, the Wallingford Art Walk, and the Wallingford Farmer's Market, to name a few.

Greg was humbled that his colleagues in the Chamber of Commerce chose him to be one of their representatives and leaders. "I have benefited tremendously from being part of the Chamber of Commerce and serving on the Board of Directors. There are so many opportunities for invaluable personal and business connections. I hope that as I take on more responsibility I can open the door for more local businesses to develop deep ties and extensive networks throughout Wallingford and the neighboring communities. The Chamber's goal is to help create an environment where small business can continually thrive."
